Ecovillage Art

Contributed by Greg Jalbert
16 March 2006

Adobe Village is an imaginary drawing of a village using permaculture as its way of integrating into the surrounding ecosystem. The buildings are created using the local earth, and food gardens surround the village.

By contrast,
the modern war-torn city is filled with death, mind-numbing dashboard hypnosis, gasoline addiction, enslavement to profiteering fossil-fuel-based agribusiness.

More artwork is available at http://www.imaja.com/artwork/